Item 4: Advisory Business

HHRDM is an SEC registered investment adviser with its principal place of business located in Las Vegas, NV. HHRDM began conducting business in 2014. All material conflicts of interest are disclosed below regarding our firm, our representatives or our employees, which could be reasonably expected to impair the rendering of unbiased and objective advice. HHRDM is 100% owned by Kenneth Himmler.

HHRDM offers the following advisory services to our clients:

INVESTMENT SUPERVISORY SERVICES ("ISS")

Our process begins with a comprehensive and thorough analysis of cash flows, tax projections, investment risk and estate plan. Through this process we develop a layered portfolio strategy that allocates a certain amount of assets to fixed investments and the balance to equities.

HHRDM's goal is to create financial plans that are coordinated with the portfolio structure.

Through the planning process with the client in which the client's goals and objectives are established, we determine if and or what model portfolio is suitable to the client's circumstances. Once we determine the suitability of the portfolio, the portfolio is managed based on the portfolio's goal. Clients retain individual ownership of all securities. Clients retain all title of accounts in whichever custodian's client holds assets in. HHRDM does not take any custody of clients funds in any manner.

Once the clients' portfolios and investment strategies have been implemented then the client has the choice of services

Investment Management Only (Level 1)

We provide a portfolio structure which includes rebalancing and security selection. A Level 1 client is entitled to one annual meeting up to 2 hours. Additional time is billed at the current hourly billing rate of the person the client meets with. After the time is concluded, the client is emailed an invoice.

Investment Management with Gamma Overlay (Level 2)

All the services provided under Level 1 + we employ GAMMA which is tax management of the accounts. We strive to reduce the tax effect of trades and review how we allocate the investments. The client is entitled to a certain number of hours depending on the amount that we are managing.

Total Wealth Oversight

Includes all services under Level 1 + Level 2. In addition we create a full financial plan within Emoney and we set up an automated alerting system to oversee your entire financial plan. In addition, the client is entitled to more hours. The amount of hours are depending on the amount that we are managing.

Investment Management

We manage these advisory accounts on a discretionary basis. Account supervision is guided by the client's stated objectives and the creation of the financial plan

Our investment recommendations are not limited to any specific product or service offered by a broker dealer or insurance company and will generally include advice regarding the following securities:

- Exchange-listed securities
- Securities traded over-the-counter
- Foreign issuers
- Warrants
- Corporate debt securities (other than commercial paper)
- Commercial paper
- Certificates of deposit
- Municipal securities
- Variable life insurance
- Variable annuities
- Mutual fund shares
- United States governmental securities
- Options contracts on securities
- Interests in partnerships investing in real estate

Because some types of investments involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be implemented/recommended when consistent with the client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity and suitability and a financial plan.

To ensure that our initial determination of an appropriate portfolio remains suitable and that the account continues to be managed in a manner consistent with the client's financial circumstances, we will:

1. at least annually, contact each participating client to determine whether there have been any changes in the client's financial situation or investment objectives, and whether the client wishes to impose investment restrictions or modify existing restrictions;

2. be reasonably available to consult with the client (see AUM contract for allowable hours);
and
3. maintain client suitability information in each client's file.

INDIVIDUAL PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT

Our firm provides continuous asset management of client funds based on the individual needs of the client. Through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on the client's particular circumstances are established, we develop the client's personal financial plan. We create and manage a portfolio based on that plan. During our data-gathering process, we determine the client's individual objectives, time horizons, risk tolerance, and liquidity needs. As appropriate, we may also review and discuss a client's prior investment history, as well as family composition and background. We provide all recommendations only after a complete analysis through Emoney financial planning software.

Once the client's portfolio has been established, we review the portfolio annually, and if necessary, rebalance the portfolio on an annual basis, based on the client's individual needs, but may rebalance more often dependent upon clients' needs or changes, economic fundamentals, and/or the portfolio parameters.

Our investment recommendations are not limited to any specific product or service offered by a broker-dealer or insurance company and will generally include advice regarding the following securities:

- Exchange-listed securities
- Securities traded over-the-counter
- Foreign issuers
- Warrants
- Corporate debt securities (other than commercial paper)
- Commercial paper
- Certificates of deposit
- Variable life insurance
- Variable annuities

- Mutual fund shares
- United States governmental securities
- Options contracts on securities
- Interests in partnerships investing in real estate Index Selection, Distribution Strategies on Equity Indexed Annuities.

Because some types of investments involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be recommended when consistent with the client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity and suitability.

MANAGER SELECTION PROGRAMS

We also offer advisory management services to our clients through the Manager Selection Programs (hereinafter, "Programs").

Our firm provides the client with an asset allocation strategy developed through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on the client's particular circumstances are established.

Based on the client's individual circumstances and needs we will then perform management searches of various unaffiliated registered investment advisers to identify which registered investment adviser's portfolio management style is appropriate for that client. Factors considered in making this determination include account size, risk tolerance, the opinion of each client and the investment philosophy of the selected registered investment adviser. Clients should refer to the selected registered investment adviser's Firm Brochure or other disclosure document for a full description of the services offered. We are available to meet with clients (See individual AUM contract for allowable hours) to review the account. These programs are often referred to as "Robo-Advisors". We do not select the underlying stocks or ETF's, rather the program sponsors offer models to choose from. Furthermore, we do not offer ongoing investment oversight but will counsel with the client as to changes in their lives that may require a change in the model.

Investment Advisor Representative.

We monitor the performance of the selected registered investment adviser(s). If we determine that a particular selected registered investment adviser(s) is not providing sufficient management services to the client, or is not managing the client's portfolio in a manner consistent with the client's objectives and Emoney plan, we may suggest that the client work with a different registered investment adviser and/or program sponsor. Under this scenario, our firm assists the client in selecting a new registered investment adviser and/or program. However, any move to a new registered investment adviser and/or program is solely at the discretion of the client.

We carefully review documents supplied by the client, including a questionnaire completed by the client, and prepare a financial plan based on the client's stated financial goals and objectives.

Should the client choose to implement the recommendations contained in the plan, we suggest the client work closely with his/her attorney, accountant, and/or insurance agent. Implementation of financial plan recommendations is entirely at the client's discretion.

Management personnel and other related persons of our firm are licensed as insurance agents or brokers. In their separate capacity(ies), these individuals are able to implement insurance recommendations for advisory clients for separate and typical compensation (i.e., commissions or other sales-related forms of compensation). This presents a conflict of interest to the extent that these individuals may recommend that a client invest in an insurance program which results in a commission being paid to the individuals. Clients are not under any obligation to engage these individuals when considering implementation of advisory recommendations. If there is a no commission or no load product used and a due diligence report is needed then the planner/agent will discuss the cost to perform the report prior to the work being done. If there is a commission being provided either directly by insurance company or indirectly through an insurance broker this payment is consideration for the additional design and implementation of any insurance products but does not entitle the client to ongoing management or services without a fee or hourly charge. Clients are free to choose whether to place such insurance products through the representatives of HHRDM or through their own insurance agent.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Termination of the Advisory Relationship: Client may terminate an Investment Management Agreement by written notice given within five days after the date of said Agreement and receive full refund of all fees paid to HHRDM. The Investment Management Agreement may also be terminated by either party for any reason upon 30 days written notice to the other party prior to the end of a calendar quarter. If notice is received greater than 31 days prior to the end of a calendar quarter then the agreement will terminate upon the end of the current calendar quarter in which the request was received. If notice is received less than 31 days prior to the end of a calendar quarter then the termination will be the end of the next calendar quarter. Prorated fees will not be refunded as the termination date will be at the end of the next calendar quarter. Any prorated fees not refunded are used to assist in closing procedures, closeout statements and/or transfer assistance.

Mutual Fund Fees: HHRDM will not at any time accept any payments, fees, 12B-1 fees or any compensation directly from or indirectly from any mutual fund company or representative.

Wrap Fee Programs and Separately Managed Account Fees: Clients participating in separately managed account programs may be charged various program fees in addition to the advisory fee charged by our firm. Such fees may include the investment advisory fees of the independent advisers, which may be charged as part of a wrap fee arrangement. In a wrap fee arrangement, clients pay a single fee for advisory, brokerage and custodial services. Client's portfolio transactions may be executed without commission charge in a wrap fee arrangement. In evaluating such an arrangement, the client should also consider that, depending upon the level of the wrap fee charged by the broker-dealer and/or money manager(s), the amount of portfolio activity in the client's account, and other factors, the wrap fee may or may not exceed the aggregate cost of such services if they were to be provided separately. We will review with clients any separate program fees that may be charged to clients. Currently, HHRDM does not offer Wrap Fee Programs.

Additional Fees and Expenses: In addition to our advisory fees, clients are also responsible for the fees and expenses charged by custodians and imposed by broker dealers and/or money manager(s), including, but not limited to, any transaction charges imposed by a broker dealer with which an independent investment manager effects transactions for the client's account(s). Please refer to the "Brokerage Practices" section (Item 12) of this Form ADV for additional information.

Grandfathering of Minimum Account Requirements: Pre-existing advisory clients are effect at the time the client entered into the advisory relationship. Therefore, our firm's minimum account requirements will differ among clients.

As such, our firm is subject to specific duties and obligations under ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code that include among other things, restrictions concerning certain forms of compensation.

Advisory Fees in General: Clients should note that similar advisory services may (or may not) be available from other registered (or unregistered) investment advisers and their fees may be higher or lower depending upon the services provided, the level of experience, as well as, the education of the advisor. We disclose that lower fees for comparable services may be available from other advisory services.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees & Side-By-Side Management

HHRDM does not charge performance-based fees.

Item 7: Types of Clients & Account Requirements

HHRDM provides advisory services to the following types of clients:

- Individuals (other than high net worth individuals);
- High net worth individuals.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies & Risk of Loss

We use the following methods of analysis in formulating our investment advice and/or managing client assets:

Fundamental Analysis. We attempt to measure the intrinsic value of a security by looking at economic and financial factors (including the overall economy, industry conditions, and the mutual fund, ETF, or security is underpriced (indicating it may be a good time to buy) or overpriced (indicating it may be time to sell).

Fundamental analysis does not attempt to anticipate market movements. This presents a potential risk, as the price of a security can move up or down along with the overall market regardless of the economic and financial factors considered in evaluating the stock.

Technical Analysis. We analyze past market movements and apply that analysis to the present in an attempt to recognize recurring patterns of investor behavior and potentially foresee future price movement.

Technical analysis does not consider the underlying financial condition of a company, mutual fund, ETF, or security. This presents a risk in that a poorly-managed or financially unsound company, mutual fund, ETF, or security may underperform regardless of market movement.

Risks for all forms of analysis. Our securities analysis methods rely on the assumption that the companies (mutual fund, ETF, or security) whose securities we purchase and sell, the rating agencies that review these securities, and other publicly-available sources of information about these securities, are providing accurate and unbiased data. While we are alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information.

GAMMA

For certain portfolios we will employ a GAMMA strategy. There are six potential triggers for GAMMA.

1. Asset Location. We will strive to match the securities with the highest tax costs into those types of accounts which may shelter or defer the tax while striving to utilize capital gain type of positions into non-qualified accounts.
2. Withdraw Sourcing. We determine, based on your current year tax bracket, which accounts and then which positions to draw from first.
3. Total Wealth Allocation. We will review and look at all assets including real estate, alternative investments and annuities in determining an asset allocation mix based on your risk tolerance.
4. Liability Relative Optimization. We will review how to optimize liabilities, including using secured debt such as reverse mortgages to provide guaranteed income to allow other investments to sustain larger volatility and strive for more growth
5. Dynamic Withdraw Strategies. We will determine on a year to year basis the amount or percentage of income that is optimal based on your health, income and current tax outlook.
6. Strategic Billing Allocation. When assessing our investment management fees we will review the most tax efficient owners, entities or accounts to bill our fees to. Certain accounts may give you more tax benefit than other accounts.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

We use the following strategy(ies) in managing client accounts, provided that such strategy(ies) are appropriate to the needs of the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives, risk tolerance, and time horizons, among other considerations:

If we manage a portfolio as opposed to an outside manager, sub-advisor or program manager then we will evaluate based on:

Long-term purchases. We purchase securities with the idea of holding them in the client's account for a year or longer. Typically we employ this strategy when:

- we believe the securities to be currently undervalued, and/or
- we want exposure to a particular asset class over time, regardless of the current projection for this class.

A risk in a long-term purchase strategy is that by holding the security for this length of time, we may not take advantage of short-term gains that could be profitable to a client. Moreover, if our predictions are incorrect, a security may decline sharply in value before we make the decision to sell.

Short-term purchases. When utilizing this strategy, we purchase securities with the idea of selling them within a relatively short time (typically a year or less). We do this in an attempt to take advantage of conditions that we believe will soon result in a price swing in the securities we purchase.

A short-term purchase strategy poses risks should the anticipated price swing not materialize; we are then left with the option of having a long-term investment in a security that was. In addition, this strategy involves more frequent trading than does a longer-term strategy, and will result in increased brokerage and other transaction-related costs, as well as less favorable tax treatment of short-term capital gains.

Options. We may use options as an investment strategy. An option is a contract that gives the buyer the right, but not the obligation, to buy or sell an asset (such as a share of stock) at a specific price on or before a certain date. An option, just like a stock or bond, is a security. An option is also a derivative, because it derives its value from an underlying asset.

- We may sell a covered call if we determine it is in the best interest of the portfolio objective.
- We may sell a cash covered Put if we determine that we want to own a certain security at a lower price.
- We may buy a Put if the client requests downside protection on a portfolio or a security

No option strategy is guaranteed to achieve its intended objective.

We may implement a strategy with a sub advisor or a sub manager that implements hedging strategies.

Risk of Loss. Securities investments are not guaranteed and you may lose money on your investments. We ask that you work with us to help us understand your tolerance for risk.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

We are required to disclose any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of our advisory business or the integrity of our management.

Our firm and our management personnel have no reportable disciplinary events to disclose.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities & Affiliations

Representatives of our firm, in their individual capacities, are agents for various insurance companies. As such, these individuals are able to receive separate, yet customary commission compensation resulting from implementing product transactions on behalf of advisory clients. Clients, however, are not under any obligation to engage these individuals when considering implementation of advisory recommendations. The implementation of any or all recommendations is solely at the discretion of the client. Our related insurance agency is Integrated Wealth Management, LLC

Representatives of our firm may be working with you through H&H Retirement Design and Management, LLC. This work may involve tax preparation, tax planning, asset protection planning or business planning. As such, the ownership, CPA's or attorney's may be also Investment Advisor Representatives and may receive separate compensation resulting from hourly fees or project fees in relation to their working with you on legal issues or tax preparation or planning. These fees are separate and distinct from any investment management fees and are not to be considered as such.

Zuess, LLC is a wholly owned company by Kenneth Himmler and acts as a Registered Agent Company for business clients that hold corporations or LLC's.

Clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation by HHRDM and its management persons or employees creates a conflict of interest that may impair the objectivity of our firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations. HHRDM endeavors at all times to put the interest of its clients first as part of our fiduciary duty as a registered investment adviser; we take the following steps to address this conflict:

- we disclose to clients the existence of all material conflicts of interest, including the potential for our firm and our employees to earn compensation from advisory clients in addition to our firm's advisory fees;
- we disclose to clients that they are not obligated to purchase recommended investment products from our employees or affiliated companies;
- we collect, maintain and document accurate, complete and relevant client background information, including the client's financial goals, objectives and risk tolerance;
- our firm's management conducts regular reviews of each client account to verify that all recommendations made to a client are suitable to the client's needs and circumstances;
- we require that our employees seek prior approval of any outside employment activity so that we may ensure that any conflicts of interests in such activities are properly addressed;

- we periodically monitor these outside employment activities to verify that any conflicts of interest continue to be properly addressed by our firm; and
- we educate our employees regarding the responsibilities of a fiduciary, including the need for having a reasonable and independent basis for the investment advice provided to clients.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions & Personal Trading

Our firm has adopted a Code of Ethics which sets forth high ethical standards of business conduct that we require of our employees, including compliance with applicable federal securities laws.

HHRDM and our personnel owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards our clients, and have an obligation to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code of Ethics but to the general principles that guide the Code.

Our Code of Ethics includes policies and procedures for the review of quarterly securities transactions reports as well as initial and annual securities holdings reports that must be submitted by the firm's access persons. Among other things, our Code of Ethics also requires the prior approval of any acquisition of securities in a limited offering (e.g., private placement) or an initial public offering. Our code also provides for oversight, enforcement and recordkeeping provisions.

HHRDM's Code of Ethics further includes the firm's policy prohibiting the access to non-public information. All employees are reminded that such information may not be used in a personal or professional capacity.

A copy of our Code of Ethics is available to our advisory clients and prospective clients.

As disclosed in the preceding section of this Brochure (Item 10), related persons of our firm are separately licensed as an insurance agent/broker of various insurance companies. Please refer to Item 10 for a detailed explanation of these relationships and important conflict of interest disclosures.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

HHRDM will endeavor to make recommendations to clients to use those brokers or dealers which will provide the best services at the lowest commission rates possible. The reasonableness of commissions is based on the broker's stability, reputation, ability to provide professional services, competitive commission rates and prices, research, trading platform, and other services which will help HHRDM in providing investment management services to clients. HHRDM may, therefore recommend the use of a broker who provides useful research and securities transaction services even though a lower commission may be charged by a broker who offers no research services and minimal securities transaction assistance. Research services may be useful in servicing all our clients, and not all of such research may be useful for the account for which the particular transaction was effected.

HHRDM no longer participates in any soft-dollar reimbursements for research

BLOCK TRADING

HHRDM will block trades where possible and when advantageous to clients. This blocking of trades permits the trading of aggregate blocks of securities composed of assets from multiple client accounts, so long as transaction costs are shared equally and on a pro-rated basis between all accounts included in any such block.

Block trading may allow us to execute equity trades in a timelier, more equitable manner, at an average share price. HHRDM will typically aggregate trades among clients whose accounts can be traded at a given broker, and generally will rotate or vary the order of brokers through which it places trades for clients on any particular day. HHRDM's block trading policy and procedures are as follows:

- 1) Transactions for any client account may not be aggregated for execution if the practice is prohibited by or inconsistent with the client's advisory agreement with HHRDM, or our firm's order allocation policy.
- 2) The trading desk in concert with the portfolio manager must determine that the purchase or sale of the particular security involved is appropriate for the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives and with any investment guidelines or restrictions applicable to the client's account.
- 3) The portfolio manager must reasonably believe that the order aggregation will benefit, and will enable HHRDM to seek best execution for each client participating in the aggregated order. This requires a good faith judgment at the time the order is placed for the execution. It does not mean that the determination made in advance of the transaction must always prove to have been correct in the light of a "20-20 hindsight" perspective. Best price.
- 4) Prior to entry of an aggregated order, an electronically generated order ticket must be completed which identifies each client account participating in the order and the proposed allocation of the order, upon completion, to those clients.

- 5) If the order cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated pro rata among the participating client accounts in accordance with the initial order ticket or other written statement of allocation. However, adjustments to this pro rata allocation may be made to participating client accounts in accordance with the initial order ticket or other written statement of allocation. Furthermore, adjustments to this pro rata allocation may be made to avoid having odd amounts of shares held in any client account, or to avoid excessive ticket charges in smaller accounts.
- 6) Generally, each client that participates in the aggregated order must do so at the average price for all separate transactions made to fill the order, and must share in the commissions on a pro rata basis in proportion to the client's participation. Under the client's agreement with the custodian/broker, transaction costs may be based on the number of shares traded for each client.
- 7) If the order will be allocated in a manner other than that stated in the initial statement of allocation, a written explanation of the change must be provided to and approved by the Chief Compliance Officer no later than the morning following the execution of the aggregate trade.
- 8) HHRDM's client account records separately reflect, for each account in which the aggregated transaction occurred, the securities which are held by, and bought and sold for, that account.
- 9) Funds and securities for aggregated orders are clearly identified on HHRDM's records and to the broker-dealers or other intermediaries handling the transactions, by the appropriate account numbers for each participating client.
- 10) No client or account will be favored over another.

HHRDM participates in the institutional customer program offered by TD Ameritrade Institutional. TD Ameritrade Institutional is a division of TD Ameritrade Inc., member FINRA/SIPC ("TD Ameritrade"), an unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealer. TD Ameritrade offers services to independent investment advisers which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions. HHRDM receives some benefits from TD Ameritrade through our participation in the program.

HHRDM participates in TD Ameritrade's Institutional customer program and we may recommend TD Ameritrade to our clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between our firm's participation in the program and the investment advice we give to our clients, although we receive economic benefits through our participation in the program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors.

These benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): duplicate client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving adviser participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain Institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to HHRDM by third party vendors. TD Ameritrade may also pay for business consulting and professional services received by HHRDM's related persons.

Some of the products and services made available by TD Ameritrade through the program may benefit HHRDM but may not benefit our client accounts. These products or services may assist us in managing and administering client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TD Ameritrade. Other services made available by TD Ameritrade are intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. The benefits received by HHRDM or our personnel through participation in the program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by HHRDM or our related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence our recommendation of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services.

Adviser considers a number of factors in selecting and/or recommending brokers and custodians for its Clients' accounts, including, but not limited to, execution capability, experience and financial stability, reputation and the quality of services provided. In selecting TD AMERITRADE, Inc. as the broker and custodian for certain of its current and future Client accounts,

Advisor works with and receives similar services through Schwab Institutional.

TRADE ERRORS

In the event of a trade error, client accounts will be restored to the position they should have been in had the error not occurred. If a loss occurs as a result of a trade error, the party at fault will be responsible for the loss and the funds will be credited back to the client's account. If a net gain results (net gains are defined as positive error account balances resulting from trade corrections), the funds will generally be automatically moved to a designated trade error account on a daily basis, then subsequently donated to Street Teens Charity of Las Vegas.

Item 14: Client Referrals & Other Compensation

It is HHRDM's policy not to engage solicitors or to pay related or non-related persons for referring potential clients to our firm.

Item 15: Custody

We previously disclosed in the "Fees and Compensation" section (Item 5) of this Brochure that our firm directly debits advisory fees from client accounts.

As part of this billing process, the client's custodian is advised of the amount of the fee to be deducted from that client's account. On at least a quarterly basis, the custodian is required to send to the client a statement showing all transactions within the account during the reporting period.

Because the custodian does not calculate the amount of the fee to be deducted, it is important for clients to carefully review their custodial statements to verify the accuracy of the calculation, among other things. Clients should contact us directly if they believe that there may be an error in their statement.

Our firm does not have actual or constructive custody of client accounts. All invoices will be uploaded to the clients Emoney Vault.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

Clients may hire us to provide discretionary asset management services, in which case we place trades in a client's account without contacting the client prior to each trade to obtain the client's permission.

Our discretionary authority includes the ability to do the following without contacting the client:

- determine the security to buy or sell; and/or
- determine the amount of the security to buy or sell

Clients give us discretionary authority when they sign a discretionary agreement with our firm, and may limit this authority by giving us written instructions. Clients may also change/amend such limitations by once again providing us with written instructions.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

As a matter of firm policy, we do not vote proxies on behalf of clients. Therefore, although our firm may provide investment advisory services relative to client investment assets, clients maintain exclusive responsibility for: (1) directing the manner in which proxies solicited by issuers of securities beneficially owned by the client shall be voted, and (2) making all elections relative to any mergers, acquisitions, tender offers, bankruptcy proceedings or other type events pertaining to the client's investment assets. Clients are responsible for instructing each custodian of the assets, to forward to the client copies of all proxies and shareholder communications relating to the client's investment assets.

We do not offer any consulting assistance regarding proxy issues to clients.

Item 18: Financial Information

Under no circumstances do we require or solicit payment of fees in excess of $500 per client more than six months in advance of services rendered. Therefore, we are not required to include a financial statement.

As an advisory firm that maintains discretionary authority for client accounts, we are also required to disclose any financial condition that is reasonable likely to impair our ability to meet our contractual obligations. HHRDM has no additional financial circumstances to report.

HHRDM has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the past ten years.
